

Information and License

This package contains brand logos and images of Train Simulator NEXT and its Game Engine vertyNEXT as portable images and as editable files for Affinity Designer 2 or newer from Serif. This document describes their usage and how to use them properly.

License

You are free to use these images and resources for all marketing purposes related to Train Simulator NEXT for free (for example, communities, manuals, advertises). You have no right to resell them. You have no right to take property of them. You have no right to apply different or additional rights on these images and resources or us. You have no right to use them to identify your commercial or free product with Train Simulator NEXT as a certified product. You have no right to show any kind of in-contract relationship with us without having a relationship.

App Logo

This is the logo for the application. You can use it to show a symbol linking to Train Simulator NEXT related content, for example.

Colored Logo

This is the banner image of the website for Train Simulator NEXT, for example <https://trainsimnext.com>. This image shows a basic design pattern or scheme applied to trains in Train Simulator NEXT. The colors are chosen accurately and are related to the RAL color table available on <https://www.ralfarbpalette.de>.

Favicon

This is the favorite icon for the Train Simulator NEXT websites.

Train Simulator NEXT Logo

This is the official logo for Train Simulator NEXT with text and design elements.

For darker backgrounds, prefer to choose the inverse logo.

Verty NEXT Logo

This is the logo of the internal used game engine of Train Simulator NEXT. It may appear on some locations or tools in different ways.